

compel or induce any officer, clerk or employe of the State, or any political subdivision thereof, to subscribe, pay or promise to pay, any political assessment, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 192. Any person who, while holding a public office, or seeking a nomination or appointment thereof, corruptly uses or promises to use, directly or indirectly, any official authority or influence possessed or anticipated, in any way to aid any person in securing an office or public employment, or any nomination, confirmation, promotion, appointment or increase of salary, upon consideration that the vote or political influence or action of the person so to be benefited, or of any other person, shall be given or used in behalf of any candidate, officer or party, or upon any other corrupt consideration, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 193. Any head of any of the departments of State, or other public officer, who shall demand or receive any money or thing of value from any clerk or other person in his office, for his election expenses, or to reimburse him for money already expended, or who shall remove from any office any competent clerk who declines to make such contribution, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 194. Any person who knowingly and wilfully procures from any court, clerk or other officer a certificate of naturalization, which has been allowed, signed or sealed in violation of the laws of the United States or of this State, with intent to enable him or any other person to vote at any election, when he or such person is not entitled by the laws of the United States to become a citizen or to exercise the elective franchise, is guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary not less than five nor more than ten years.

Sec. 195. This act is cumulative as to elections and penalties for violating the election laws of this State; except that it shall repeal the election act approved by the Governor April 1, 1903; provided that this act shall not interfere with or repeal any local option or special laws of this State, except as herein specially provided and set forth.

Sec. 196. The importance of this act to the people of the State, and the great amount of legislative work that will be on the calendar for this session, rendering the passage of important acts doubtful, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and the said rule is hereby suspended.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE REPORT.

To Hon. Geo. D. Neal, President of the Senate.

Sir: We, the undersigned committee, heretofore appointed to investigate certain charges against some member of the Legislature, published in the San Antonio Express and other daily papers, to the effect that he had attempted to sell postage stamps at the postoffice in Auscin, which were put up in packages of ten books each, of the value of 97 cents per book, amounting in the aggregate to $29.10, have had the same under consideration, and beg to submit the following as the result of our labors, viz:

We called before us Mr. Hornaday, and after putting him under oath, he said that he was the reporter for the San Antonio Express, the Houston Post and the Fort Worth Record, and that he procured said item, making said charge, and sent and had it published in said paper; that he procured it from Mr. T. L. Wren, assistant postmaster at Austin, about the 27th day of April, the day before said publication; that Mr. Wren approached him on the streets and told him that a member of the Legislature had attempted to sell three packages of stamps at the postoffice, being about $30.00 worth; that he told him emphatically that there were three packages, and the value thereof; that they made the calculation then, and from what Wren said, they were worth $29.10, being three packages containing ten books in each package of the value of 97 cents per book. He said the party attempted to sell the same to Mrs. McCleary, the stamp clerk. Mr. Hornaday said he went to see Mrs. McCleary that evening, but it was after office hours and she was out then; that he made no further investigation to find out whether the statement was true or not, but proceeded at once to send off said item to the papers above named, in which it was published on the 29th of April. He further said that he did not know at the time that the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate had never purchased stamps for the use of the Senators put up in packages and in books as these were, but that he had since found out that such was a fact, and further, that said Sergeant-at-Arms purchased for the use of the Senators stamps in sheet form.

He further said that he never made any effort to correct the wrong impression implied in said publication that the party who offered the stamps for sale was a member of the Senate, notwithstanding he had found out that it was wrong, but said that he would undertake to correct such false impression in said papers. He disclaimed any intention of purposely injuring anyone or writing up a sensational article. Before publishing the article he said that he never asked any member of the legislature about it, but that he simply relied on what Mr. Wren told him, and that was, that it was a member of the Legislature, who attempted to sell the stamps.

He further said that the article is one of those things that are brought about by misrepresentation of some one else and not on his part, but that he had never gone to Mrs. McCleary to get at the truth of the matter; that he knew that stamp books were used by members in the House and that they were limited to $25.00, and that Mr. Allen, Sergeant-at-Arms in the Senate, had told him the members in the Senate were not limited as to the amount of stamps, and that this was the only reason he had for thinking that it was a member of the Senate. He said that Mr. Wren approached him on the sidewalk near the postoffice and told him of the matter, and said that he thought it was a good thing to publish, and on his (Wren's) statement and representation it was sent to the papers. He said on looking at it now and in view of developments, it might be looked upon as an indiscretion, but in looking up a news item, reporters can not spend a day in looking up one single item.

It was shown by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate that it was his duty to purchase stamps for the use of the members of the Senate, and that the account for stamps was approved by the chairman on Contingent Expenses, and on this the Comptroller issued his warrant for the amount; that no book stamps or stamps put up in packages were ever purchased by him for the Senators, but that all the purchases were in sheet form and these were the only kind that was ever furnished to the Senators, and that no Senator ever got any stamps except on his written requisition, which he had on file in his office; that all purchases were from Mrs. McCleary, stamp clerk at the postoffice here.

From Mr. T. L. Wren it was ascertained from his sworn statement that he never saw any one come into the postoffice and attempt to sell any stamps, that he never heard any conversation of that kind between Mrs. McCleary and any one; that from the position he occupied in the room he could not have seen or heard any one talking to Mrs. McCleary, who was stamp clerk, and said that he knew nothing about it except what Mrs. McCleary told him; she said that a man had come to the window and tried to cash a handful of stamp books, and that she refused to cash them, and that she did not say how many books there were, and that she thought he was a member of the Legislature; that this occurred about three weeks ago; that he thought it a good thing to publish and told Mr. Hornaday about it; told him that there were about thirty books at 97 cents per book, and that it was only a supposition as to the number of books, and that he found out afterwards that each member of the House was only entitled to $25.00 worth of stamps, and that there must be some mistake about the number of books; said that it was about two weeks after the stamps were offered for sale before he told it to Hornaday; that it would not have been known if he had not told it; that when Mrs. McCleary saw it in the papers that she was mad about it.

From Mrs. McCleary it was found that about three weeks ago a gentleman appeared at the postoffice window and presented two or three packages of stamps for sale containing ten books in each package, but that she could not redeem them, and so told him; he turned and walked off, and that she told Mr. Wren about it; that she did not know whether it was a member of the Legislature or not, but that she may have told him that she thought it was; and that she still thinks so, but does not know it. This occurred about three weeks ago, and that if she told Mr. Wren that he was a member of the Legislature that that was only a supposition; that she told Mr. Wren that the man had two or three packages of stamps, and that she never told him there were three packages of stamps.

Mr. Allen, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, gets his stamps from her for the Senate; that no stamp books or books or packages containing stamps were sold to him; he always got sheet stamps for the Senate, and for this reason, she said, that she knew it was not a Senator who tried to sell the stamps. She repeated several times in her evidence that she told Wren that the man had two or three packages of stamps.

She said she thought it was a member of the Legislature, because she never sold more than one package of stamps at a time, except to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House, and that this man had so many packages in his hand she thought he was a member of the Legislature; that she was not instrumental in having this matter put in the newspapers, and knew nothing about it till she saw it in the papers. She stated that she was positive it was not a Senator; that when she said member of the Legislature, she meant member of the House. She also said that when she referred to the Senate, she called that body the Senate; and when she referred to the members of the Senate, she called them Senators.

So far as we have examined the books of the Sergeant-at-Arms we have found them correct, and further that it is a fact that no member of the Senate has used any kind of stamps except sheet stamps as contradistinguished from stamps put up in book packages.

We find that T. L. Wren, the party who reported the items to Mr. Hornaday, is a Republican in politics, which in our judgment accounts for his having reported said item. Why Mr. Hornaday, a reporter for Democratic newspapers, accepted and sent in an item reflecting on the honesty of a Democratic Legislature, from a partisan Republican without any investigation as to its truth or falsity, we are unable to understand.

We further state that Mr. Hornaday, who was instrumental in having said statement published, acted very indiscreetly and hastily, amounting, in our opinion, almost to criminal negligence. We further state that no fact has come to our knowledge, after a thorough investigation that in the most remote degree connected any member of this Senate with the transaction charged in said publication, and in so far as the same refers to the Senate, we brand it as false and without foundation in fact. We further find that the most casual investigation on the part of Mr. Hornaday before sending in the item would have convinced him beyond any doubt that the party attempting to sell said stamps was not a member of the Senate, and his effort, or seeming effort, to convey the impression that a member of the Senate was the guilty party was quite unjust, if not wholly inexcusable.

hereby appropriated and for no other purpose whatever.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the Comptroller of Public Accounts is hereby instructed to draw no warrants against any appropriation made for the various State institutions and departments of this State, unless an itemized statement, under oath, be filed as a voucher in office of said Comptroller.

Sec. 3. It is hereby required of each and every institution of this State to keep an itemized account and record of all moneys received from sales of all property, products, animals and leases of property; and the managers, presidents and superintendents of all such institutions shall cause to be made semi-annually to the Comptroller of Public Accounts an itemized statement, showing all such sales and moneys received therefrom and from such leases; provided, that the Superintendent of Penitentiaries and the Regents of the University shall not be required to do more than is at present provided by law, and they are exempt from the operation of this section.

Sec. 4. Nothing in this act shall be held to repeal or impair the authority conferred by Chapter 46 of the Acts of the Twenty-fifth Legislature, regular session, on pages 46 and 47 thereof, providing for the creation of deficiencies and authorizing the Governor to act in cases of emergency.

Sec. 5. The fact that there is no appropriation for the support of the State government from August 31, 1905, to August 31, 1907, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.
